How do I take attendance with Qwickly?

Most instructors find it easiest to access Qwickly Attendance directly from their course menu. This is also a great place to link to Qwickly Attendance for students so they can see their attendance record or easily check-in if you choose to use the Student Check-In feature.

- How do I configure Qwickly Attendance?
- How do I add Qwickly Attendance to my course or community menu?
- How do I allow students to check-in with Qwickly Attendance?

Taking Attendance with Qwickly Attendance

Updating Attendance Details

Limitations of Qwickly

- Qwickly tools are filtered to the current academic year to streamline efficiency

Feedback from faculty will help the instructional technology team refine Qwickly’s future use every semester.

What's New in Qwickly

December 2016

- Attendance rosters can be split by Blackboard groups, allowing instructors to keep attendance when a single course is used to maintain the enrollments in multiple courses.
- Instructors can name Check-In Sessions.
- Absent emails are sent to absent students when using student check-in.