Course Analytics: Course At-a-Glance

Blackboard offers instructors several report options to track student course engagement and compare course Blackboard use with Departmental averages. Course Analytics reports are easy to find, run and interpret. Making use of these reports can help faculty make decisions about their instruction and course design based upon data. The Course At-a-Glance report provides relevant information to gauge learner Blackboard use.

Available for Original and Ultra courses: Pathways to access will be different.

1. To access the Blackboard Course Analytics reports, Course Management > Control Panel > Evaluation > Course Analytics.
2. Click on Course At-a-Glance and the report will open and render in a separate tab.

The linked screencast illustrates the use and interpretation of the Course At-a-Glance report.

Feedback: Correct or Suggest an Article | Request Help